Subject Matter of Examinations

MBE

The MBE is an objective six-hour examination containing 200 multiple choice questions covering the following subjects: Civil Procedure, Constitutional Law, Contracts, Criminal Law and Procedure, Evidence, Real Property, and Torts. The questions are designed to be answered by applying fundamental legal principles rather than local case or statutory law.

A passing score for the MBE in Palau is a scaled score of 120 or better.

MEE

The MEE consists of three to four essay questions. The MEE is designed to test an applicant's ability to (1) identify legal issues raised by a hypothetical factual situation; (2) separate material which is relevant from that which is not; (3) present a reasoned analysis of the relevant issues in a clear, concise, and well-organized composition; and (4) demonstrate an understanding of the fundamental legal principles relevant to the probable solution of the issues raised by the factual situation.

The primary distinction between the MEE and the MBE is that the MEE requires the examinee to demonstrate an ability to communicate effectively in writing. Subject matter may include Business Associations (Agency & Partnership; Corporations, and Limited Liability Companies), Civil Procedure, Conflict of Laws, Constitutional Law, Contracts, Criminal Law and Procedure, Evidence, Family Law, Real Property, Torts, Trusts and Estates (Decedents' Estates; Trusts and Future Interests), and Uniform Commercial Code (Secured Transactions) Some questions may include issues in more than one area of law.

Applicants will have 45 minutes per question.

A passing score for the MEE in Palau is a score of 65 or better.

MPT I & II

The MPT exam is a three-hour examination (consisting of two 90-minute fact patterns) designed to test an applicant's ability to use fundamental lawyering skills in realistic situations. Each fact pattern evaluates an applicant's ability to complete a task that a beginning lawyer should be able to accomplish.

The materials for each MPT include a File and a Library. The File consists of source documents containing all the facts of the case. The specific assignment the examinee is to complete is described in a memorandum from a supervising attorney. The File might also include transcripts of interviews, depositions, hearings or trials, pleadings, correspondence, client documents, contracts, newspaper articles, medical records, police reports, or lawyer's notes. Relevant as well as irrelevant facts are included. Facts are sometimes ambiguous, incomplete, or even conflicting. The Library consists of substantive legal materials. Examinees are expected to recognize when facts are inconsistent or missing and are expected to extract from the Library the legal principles necessary to analyze the problem and perform the task. The MPT is not a test of substantive law; the Library materials provide sufficient substantive information to complete the task.

The MPT requires applicants to (1) sort detailed factual materials and separate relevant from irrelevant facts; (2) analyze statutory, case, and administrative materials for applicable principles of law; (3) apply the relevant law to the relevant facts in a manner likely to resolve a client's problem; (4) identify and resolve ethical dilemmas, when present; (5) communicate effectively in writing; and (6) complete a lawyering task within time constraints. These skills are tested by requiring applicants to perform one or more of a variety of lawyering tasks. For example, applicants might be instructed to complete any of the following: a memorandum to a supervising attorney, a letter to a client, a persuasive memorandum or brief, a statement of facts, a contract provision, a will, a counseling plan, a proposal for settlement or agreement, a discovery plan, a witness examination plan, or a closing argument.

A passing score for the MPT in Palau is a score of 65 or better.

Palauan-based Essay Examination

This portion of the examination consists of questions specifically on Palauan law. Questions may cover customary law, ethics, land law, the constitution, statutes, the Compact of Free Association, rules (such as the Rules of Civil Procedure, Criminal Procedure, Evidence, and Appellate Procedure), and case law.

A passing score for the Palauan-based Essay Examination is a score of 65 or better.

Handwriting on Essays and MPTs

All essays and MPT answers must be handwritten. The applicant will be responsible for ensuring that his or her handwriting is legible. Illegible answers will receive no credit.

MPRE

The MPRE contains 60 multiple choice questions on the law governing the conduct of lawyers, including the disciplinary rules of professional conduct as articulated in the ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct, the ABA Model Code of Judicial Conduct, and controlling constitutional decisions, as well as generally accepted principles established in leading federal and state cases and in the rules of procedure and evidence.

A passing score for the MPRE in Palau is a scaled score of 75 or better.

The MPRE is administered by the Palau Community College rather than the Palau Supreme Court. Please log on to the NCBE website to register for and get further details regarding this exam.
